

HORSE SHOW ENTRIES STILL BEING FILED

Melvin C. Hazen, Manager, Will Receive No More Applications After Today.

Eleventh-hour entries are still coming in to Melvin C. Hazen, manager of the National Capital horse show, although the lists officially closed last Tuesday, and twenty-three animals were entered yesterday on applications received by wire. No entries will be accepted after today, as the list must go to the printer.

Chesterfield, a chestnut gelding that received much attention at the last New York horse show, was one of the horses entered yesterday. He is owned by Miss Dorothy Webb, of New York, and will be a contender in all of the park classes.

D. F. S. Gregory, of New York, wired Manager Hazen to enter a string of twelve horses from his stable, all of them being in the harness classes. Ten animals belonging to Walter Handley, of Providence, R. I., also will be shown. These and other late entries have made the problem of stabling a most serious one, and some of the exhibitors are threatening to withdraw unless better provisions are made. Every shelter that can be used as a stable within several blocks of the show grounds is being pressed into service.

Thomas Bones and John Gheen, both of Washington, have been named as stewards of the show. William F. Gude has been made chairman of the decorations committee. It was announced by the War Department yesterday that a detail will be sent from the Fifth Cavalry to act as ushers and gate keepers.

Vermonters Make Merry At Maple Sugar Party

Rural Vermont was brought to the District of Columbia with all settings of the Vermont State Association at National Rifles Armory. Nearly 400 Vermonters gathered at the old time feast with its "specials" of maple sugar, pickles and cheese. Waitresses served to the guests steaming pitchers of green mountain maple syrup and in their costumes of old Puritan days brought back memories of former days in New England.

A "feast of reason" followed the banquet and addresses were heard from Judge H. B. Moulton, president of the society and Congressman Frank L. Greene, of Vermont. President Wilson sent his regrets that press of business made it impossible to attend.

WILL AID EMPLOYEES OF CLOSED THEATER

Girls of Company at the American Arrange Three Benefit Performances Today.

Three performances for the benefit of employees will be given at the American Theater, Eleventh street and Pennsylvania avenue northwest, today. These will be at 2:15, 7:15 and 9 p. m. The performances will be under the direction of Miss Georgia Lewis and Miss Helen Broderick, who have been appearing at the American nearly every week since the theater opened, and who have made themselves very popular with patrons of the house.

The American did not prove such a financial success as its backers had hoped, and was forced to close Wednesday. There was not enough money in the box office to fill the pay envelopes of all the employees this week. In view of this fact, the Misses Lewis and Broderick took it upon themselves to run the theater for two days, in the hope that they could raise at least a part of the money coming to the employees.

It will be necessary to purchase tickets from Miss Lewis and Miss Broderick in the lobby of the theater. There is an attachment out for the box office receipts and consequently the plucky young women will not be able to pass out the pasteboards through the opening in the little glass window.

Judge Robert H. Terrell Is Confirmed by Senate

The Senate has confirmed the nomination of Robert H. Terrell as municipal judge of the District. Prolonged opposition to Terrell was offered in the Senate by Senators Vardaman and others. It was racial, and took the form of a filibuster.

Terrell's record, however, was good, and when a vote was forced last evening, a majority of the Senate supported confirmation.
